

OPEN TRAINING Presentation Thinking & Design

TLSM® method: "Designing a presentation is thinking backwards"

Training with a concrete output

Before the start of the training, participants are requested to select a topic for an actual presentation they will do in the near future. They will apply TLSM® principles on this presentation throughout the whole training, in order to have a usable output by the end of the training.

Day 1. Presentation Thinking & Structuring

This interactive one day training will familiarise participants with the TLSM® method for making better presentations, faster.

The main focus will be on:

- Audience & Purpose
- Lead Crafting & Pyramid Structuring

Several exercises will be made throughout the day. Participants are requested to select a topic for an actual presentation they will do in the near future. In this way, they will be able to apply the TLSM® method in practice.

The training will result in a draft presentation that will be

- more purposeful
- concise
- scalable

Day 2. Storytelling & Delivery, Presentation Design

During this training day, participants will apply a range of storytelling techniques, and will receive concise guidance on their speech delivery style. They will acquire a more thorough understanding of the principles of slide design.

Throughout the day, participants will work on their individually prepared assignment. The individual preparation aims to rehearse TLSM® principles, whilst the work in group (whole training group, as well as smaller groups of 2 or 3) will serve to enhance storytelling aspects, effective slide design, and connective speech.

- Slide design: focus will be on general slide design principles (graphic principles, use of different types of images, attention heat maps, colour schemes, data visualisation).
- Storytelling: the TLSM® method clearly distinguishes between objective content and subjective narration/clarification. Our method stimulates authenticity.
- Presentation delivery: authentic speaking, connecting with audience, body language.
